The hike to Bort begins at Schreckfeld station. The wide trail initially starts with a gentle slope and great views of the mountains across from it. Once you reach Egg, it gets steeper going downhill past alpine huts and giant firs. Further down, the path branches and you have the opportunity to walk the last stretch on a nature trail. If you remain on the asphalt path, you will soon reach the Milibach and from there, it is only a few minutes to Bort station.
