This tour through one of the most beautiful upland moor landscapes in the Bernese Oberland is sure to get every mountain biking aficionado's pulse racing.

This tour leads through one of the most beautiful upland moor landscapes in the Bernese Oberland. It is characterized by a magnificent mountain backdrop, a unique natural habitat, lush meadows and green forests. From the start in the village of Habkern, the route ascends along asphalted and gravel roads towards the Grünenberg Pass. This is followed by an exhilarating, somewhat uneven descent into the valley with views of the Hohgant summit. Ride through an idyllic landscape on your way to Kemmeriboden Bad, where the delicious meringues are always worth stopping for! After a well-earned break, the final ascent to Harzisboden beckons. Once you reach the top, a stunning landscape unfolds. Continue through upland moorlands to the highest point on Lombachalp, where it's time for another short break. Superb views of the mountains and Lake Thun are your constant companions as you head back downhill along the asphalted road back to Habkern and your starting point.

Destinationpoint:

Habkern

Directions:

Habkern – Grünenbergpass - Bumbach – Kemmeriboden-Bad – Harzisboden – Lombachalp - Habkern

Tip:

There is a sliding passage at Harzisbode. The tour should be driven in the suggested direction, otherwise a long sliding passage to the Grünenbergpass has to be overcome. The tour is difficult to drive for e-bikes due to the sometimes steep terrain (including stones, scree) and the aforementioned sliding passage.

Getting There:

Anreise mit öV resp. PostAuto gewährleistet

Additional Information:

Information regarding duration, fitness requirements and technique depend on the chosen bike type (i.e. mountain bike, e-bike, touring bike, racing bike). These are approximate guidelines.
