

"No fear of livestock guarding dogs" course

Guidle.com

Don't be afraid of livestock guarding dogs. In this course, experts from various fields explain how to behave correctly towards livestock guarding dogs.

Lace up your hiking boots and follow the yellow signposts. Easy access to hiking is important - but it also involves risks. The Lucerne hiking trails proactively counteract these and are committed to safety when hiking. The aim of the courses on offer is to deepen hiking knowledge in theory, improve technical skills in practice and avoid incidents. All interested hikers can take part.

The "No fear of livestock guarding dogs" course is aimed at hikers and anyone interested in handling livestock guarding dogs. How do you behave when you encounter a herd of livestock guarding dogs on a hike? And what do you have to bear in mind when you are out and about with a dog yourself? These and many other questions will be addressed in the course.

Course content:

- Large carnivores and livestock guarding dogs: behavior, training, working methods, etc.
- Correct behavior of people during an encounter: planning (maps), information boards in the area, behavior tips and no-gos, risk of companion dogs, strategy in case of fear, etc.
- Safe encounters with the livestock guarding dog in the field
- Simulation of a conflict situation if necessary
- Accompanying a person with fear
