In this fast-paced media world, it is a rarity for people to show themselves as they are. With their pain - unexposed and without fanfare. Madeline Juno belongs to this rare species that cannot help but be authentic. She tells stories and feelings in such a way that it is easy to immerse yourself in them. With almost one million monthly listeners on Spotify, the sought-after artist takes listeners on an uncompromisingly honest journey - through fears, doubts and even courage. She has released five studio albums to date. The most recent work, entitled "Besser kann ich es nicht erklären", entered the German charts at number 6 in 2022 and has just been honored by her label "Embassy of Music" for a quarter of a billion shared streams. Her single "Grund genug" alone has over 24 million Spotify views and inspired hundreds of thousands to create their own TikTok clips. On 26.01.2024, she released her new album "Nur zu Besuch" with a total of 14 songs.

Whether it's poppy and loud songs with her full live band or acoustic versions with just her ukulele, Madeline Juno always manages to captivate her audience, who sing along loudly to every one of her songs.
