The unique and favoured location obliges.

The Mätzli farm is located in Vitznau at an altitude of 500 - 600 metres above sea level on the southern flank of the Rigi.

The two PIWI grape varieties Johanniter (white) and Cabernet Jura (red) are used to produce fruity, full-bodied wines. These two single-varietal wines are cultivated and pressed according to organic guidelines.

The craft of distilling schnapps from the farm's own organically produced fruit is also a great passion of the Küttel family.
