

Red Bull The Edge - The virtual climbing experience on the Matterhorn

Climbing to the top of the Matterhorn is a special experience and a dream for many of us. With Red Bull The Edge you get one step closer to this dream. Climb the Matterhorn virtually.

After a video briefing with Red Bull athlete Jérémie Heitz and his friend and Zermatt mountain guide Sam Anthamatten, you're already off. Equipped with VR goggles and climbing harnesses, they head towards the summit of the Matterhorn. With the equipment, they now head up the climbing wall. Wind simulations and the authentic soundscape ensure an unconditional fusion of the virtual and real worlds. Once you have reached a height of 4478 metres above sea level, you can enjoy the breathtaking view - a feeling of happiness that is otherwise only known to mountaineers. But be careful! Red Bull The Edge is not for people with weak nerves and the adrenaline rush is pre-programmed. Experience virtual reality of the next generation.
