The Ghost Inside Announce "Searching For Solace European Tour" in October and November This Year

The Ghost Inside has announced European Tour in support of their forthcoming album 'Searching For Solace.' The three-week tour is scheduled to begin on October 18th in Paris and will include dates in Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands Austria and more. Please see below for the full list of dates.

The band's sixth album 'Searching For Solace,' is set for digital release on April 19th, followed by the LP/CD release on June 7th. The album provides a comprehensive portrayal of the band's history, current state, and future, encapsulating the highs and lows of their journey. It arrives at a pivotal moment in The Ghost Inside's lives. Nearly a decade after the devastating bus crash that altered their path forever, vocalist Jonathan Vigil, guitarists Zach Johnson and Chris Davis, bassist Jim Riley, and drummer Andrew Tkaczyk have gained a profound understanding of inner peace. Embracing the notion that "it's the journey, not the destination," this theme is intricately woven throughout album.

Merging metalcore's proficiency with punk's urgency, Searching For Solace features production from Dan Braunstein (Spiritbox, Dayseeker) who took the reins on most of the record, with other tracks handled by Cody Quistad (Wage War), Carson Slovak and Grant McFarland (August Burns Red, Bloodywood). Building a bridge between more aggressive sounds and thoughtful messaging, the album boasts the most fundamental elements of The Ghost Inside: honesty, vulnerability, the message, and the melody. Unafraid to embrace darker themes and expanded sonic landscapes, Searching for Solace is a quintessential entry to The Ghost Inside's catalog.
