Experience an exciting scavenger hunt with the team on a company outing

Everyone knows the good old scavenger hunt. Equipped with GPS devices and coordinates, GPS geocaching events bring this well-known classic into the modern age and have been very popular for company events for years.

Divided into small teams, the GPS technology is used to search for hidden treasures, so-called "caches". The caches contain the coordinates to the next destination in nature.

This GPS geocaching event combines the search for hiding places with a competition. Several teams play against each other and against the clock. Organisation, team spirit and a good strategy are required. After all, everyone wants to avoid duplicate routes and be faster than the others.

Alternatively, this programme is also available as Geocaching Team Challenge.

The focus here is on playing together. Individual tasks, puzzles, team stations or other obstacles can be integrated as desired.
