

Crime scene Tell

Valentin Luthiger

William Tell reflects the soul of Switzerland like no other;

The developed terrain game "Tatort Tell" takes you on a search for clues in the legendary mountain and lake landscape of Uri and brings the national hero closer to young and old in a playful way using modern staging techniques.

Investigate a murder case

A murder has happened. A man was shot dead in the Hohlen Gasse near Küssnacht. The arrow of a crossbow hit him right in the heart.

As a detective, you investigate the case of the murdered bailiff. Equipped with a game plan, crime scene maps, inspector's badge and inspector's rucksack, you set off in the holiday region of Uri on the trail of the accurate marksman William Tell. Over 15 stations, the Tell case is revealed to you step by step. The case is solved experiment by experiment and multimedia presentations at the crime scenes challenge your senses. The research objects from the commissioner's rucksack help you to uncover the mystery.

The combination of puzzle solving and a visit to the original Tell sites in the midst of the breathtaking mountain landscape at the Lake of Uri makes "Tatort Tell" a perfect adventure for families, friends, companies and clubs.
