Godensholt Chapel

The current one-room chapel in Godensholt is a new building from 1958. It is the third in the cemetery and was built from red brick. A hipped roof protruding far, which carries a rider on the northern end of the ridge, forms a protected space in front of the entrance. In 1972, from voluntary donations from Godensholter, two bronze bells were procured, which were cast by the Bachert Brothers foundry in Karlsruhe. There are also eight graves of soldiers who died in April 1945 in the cemetery.
