Fly over snow-capped mountain peaks, glacial landscapes and lakes

The Swiss Alps as you’ve never seen them before: in the Bernese Oberland you embark on an unforgettable flying experience. From a spectacular flying tour over Interlaken to a trip to the Matterhorn or even Mont Blanc, the sky is the limit. If none of that takes your fancy: how about a breathtaking glacier landing?

Have you ever seen a glacier from above? On a helicopter or aeroplane flight, you can do just that. Take off from Reichenbach airfield for a tour of the skies over Interlaken, the Matterhorn or Mont Blanc. The flight time is between 25 and 55 minutes. Take a 15-minute or 25-minute helicopter flight from Lauterbrunnen heliport to the Three Peaks of the Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau. Depending on snow conditions, a memorable landing on a glacier is also a possibility.
