Experiment with water

Explore water through play and discover its natural dynamics. The Gwunderwasser water playground has plenty to interest both children and adults. Hire a water studies rucksack at the tourist office in Diemtigtal Nature Park to take a closer look at the water.

The Gwunderwasser water playground in Tiermatti, Schwenden offers children exciting experiences. There is a play area for splashing around and an experimental area with water play equipment where children can explore natural water dynamics. Would you like to take a closer look at the water? If so, hire a water studies rucksack at the tourist office in Diemtigtal Nature Park for CHF 20.00. There are also guided discovery packages for school classes, which are accompanied by an experienced expert. A nature study hut with teaching resources is also available. Relax on comfortable wooden loungers or take a break at a table with a bench or the open-air barbecue.
