Confront a mystery and experience moments of suspense

Working with your team, you have one hour to get out of the room. The clock is ticking... use various tools to combine clues, puzzle over dilemmas, solve riddles and break codes. Whether you come with family members, friends or as a team exercise, who will be the most creative and who will keep a cool head?

Book your adventure online to play Sherlock Holmes. You and your companions will be locked in a room for one hour. The task is clear: your team must get out before time runs out. Can you keep a cool head and solve the puzzles under pressure? This live, suspense-packed escape game invites you to try something very different: a treasure hunt with a difference.

Your Escape Room Adventure

In the "Mystery of the Captain" game, look for mysterious messages and objects inside the room. To locate the treasure this time, you will need to work together effectively to find all the clues you need. These gripping "mind games" are not a game of chess, but you still need to think very hard. In a modern-style room, you will be invited to resolve some challenging tasks. In "Escape from the Asylum" you try to free yourself from the hospital room of a psychiatric ward. Why did you end up here? The night nurse Angie thinks you are the victim of an intrigue. Win back your freedom and your memories in this exciting game.

The only way to achieve the goal is for all players to focus as a team. Time is short, and the clock is ticking... this is real suspense!
