Skiing and snowboarding in this winter paradise

Come and discover the variety of snowsports in the Jungfrau ski region. With two valleys, three mountain ranges and around 211 km of excellently groomed pistes, the region provides an inviting array of exciting winter sports activities. Action-packed snowparks, wide pistes, impressive steep slopes and beautiful downhill runs promise you unforgettable experiences with breathtaking panoramic views.

Featuring 211 kilometres of pistes, the Jungfrau ski region is one of the most popular ski areas in Switzerland. The Grindelwald-First, Grindelwald-Wengen and Mürren-Schilthorn ski areas all form part of this spectacular ski region. Here you will find a full programme of winter sports. Go skiing or snowboarding, experience action-packed toboggan runs, book a freeride tour or enjoy an unforgettable winter hike in a magnificent natural setting. Are you staying in a hotel or hostel in downtown Interlaken? From Interlaken, a free ski shuttle will take you to the base stations.

Grindelwald-First – an Eldorado for freestylers

Look forward to lots of fun at the snowpark with kickers, straightboxes and a halfpipe, attractive downhill runs, perfectly groomed pistes and other exciting experiences in the snow in the Grindelwald-First ski area. Descend the beautifully snow-covered slopes on your snowboard or skis and admire the breathtaking mountain panorama. Sunny terraces lining the route provide plenty of chances to take a break and relax. Enjoy an adventurous day in the snow and discover the hippest après-ski hotspots in the Jungfrau ski region.

Grindelwald-Wengen – stunning panorama and wide diversity

This richly diverse ski area lies right at the foot of the Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau. You could hardly be any closer to the world-famous rock formation. Glide on your skis or snowboard down the undulating slopes of the Männlichen, challenge
