Neuhaus Strandbad, Interlaken Tourismus - web@interlaketourism.ch

Summer, sun and refreshment – with great views

In summer, Neuhaus welcomes visitors with spacious lawns where they can relax and soak up the sun. Shady trees make for an idyllic atmosphere. With several access points to the water, visitors can quickly cool off in the deep blue waters of Lake Thun. The panoramic views of the lake – and especially the pyramid-shaped Niesen – are incredibly beautiful. Play beach volleyball with friends or take to the waters with a pedalo, SUP or kayak.

Neuhaus is a wonderfully tranquil place on the shores of Lake Thun, not far from Interlaken. At any time of year, drink in stunning sunsets and feel your cares melt away. The large green spaces become sunbathing lawns in the summer, with tall trees providing shade. Neuhaus is a popular destination for fun, games and relaxation. WCs, cloakrooms and showers are available. There is a lido (entry fee applies) and a freely accessible zone. The bathing site is affectionately dubbed «Büetzer Beach» or «Schülerbad» by local people. Refresh yourself in the crystal clear lake, swim out to the raft or unwind in the sun. You can also take a leisurely stroll around the neighbouring nature reserve. Want to explore the area from the water? Alongside the lido is a water sports centre with a wide range. Rent a pedalo, kayak or SUP to glide easily across the lake. Steerable motorboats can also be chartered (no test needed). More fun and games are on offer with three beach volleyball courts. Stop for a drink or a bite to eat at the nearby restaurant or beach bar. Experience a memorable summer's day amid the peerless natural landscape of the Bernese Oberland.
