

Straßengold

Gallery

Initiated by Cologne street artist Tim Ossege aka seiLeise, Straßengold (street gold) considers itself first of all as a forum for street art in and around Cologne. However, parts of its concept are also regular exhibitions. The first two of them were realized at Kulturbunker Mülheim and featured the who is who of Cologne's lively street art scene. Together with their colleagues from all over Germany, they have also left their marks all across Mülheim, a district located on Cologne's eastern bank of the Rhine. Especially around Kulturbunker, Carlswerkstraße, and beneath Mülheim bridge there are loads of artworks to be discovered!
