... question, explore and understand.

There is one thing that can't be found in the EXPERIMINTA ScienceCenter: signs saying "Don't touch!" In fact touching is requested. More than 130 experimental stations from physics, mathematics, technology and computer science invite you to try out. Everyone becomes a little explorer. You can rest on a fakir's bed with hundreds of nails or playing the violin on singing iron plates. Particularly impressive spectacles are offered by the science shows, which take place several times a month. There you can see some really impressive experiments - from the fire tornado to ice-cold soap bubbles.
